Russians Sink Big Turkish Warship in the Black Sea

CZAR'S EXPECTED NAVAL ATTACK SUCCESSFULLY MADE SUNDAY MORNING

PETROGRAD, MARCH 29.—RUSSIA'S BLACK SEA FLEET HAS BEGUN ITS LONG-THREATENED ATTACK UPON THE BOSPHORUS, 19 MILES FROM CONSTANTINOPLE. AFTER DRIVING THE TURKISH FLEET BACK INTO THE STRAITS, THE RUSSIAN FLEET AGAIN, SUNDAY, OPENED UP ON THE ENEMY'S FORTS ON BOTH THE EUROPEAN AND ASIATIC SIDES. A LARGE TURKISH SHIP WHICH WAS CUT OFF IN THE BLACK SEA AND LATER TRIED TO MAKE ITS WAY BACK INTO THE BOSPHORUS, WAS SUNK. THE VESSEL IS BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE FONVESSA, BUT THIS HAS NOT BEEN CONFIRMED. IT IS THOUGHT THAT THE RUSSIAN FLEET IS CONTINUING THE BOMBARDMENT OF BOSPHORUS FOREST TODAY, BUT THE ONLY INFORMATION ISSUED AT THE ADMIRALTY RELATES TO THE ATTACK MADE YESTERDAY.

FIVE OTHER TOWNS IN HUNGARY CAPTURED BY INVADING RUSS TROOPS

PETROGRAD, MARCH 29.—POURING THROUGH DUKLA PASS THREE CORPS OF RUSSIANS NUMBERING 125,000 MEN CAPTURED FIVE HUNGARIAN TOWNS IN THE DISTRICT OF SAROS, ACCORDING TO ADVICES RECEIVED AT THE WAR OFFICE TODAY FROM THE CARPATHIAN FRONT. WHILE THE ALLIES ARE DIRECTING THEIR ENERGIES TOWARD THE CARPATHIAN FRONT AND THE INVASION OF HUNGARY, TWO NEW RUSSIAN VICTORIES IN POLAND ARE OFFICIALLY REPORTED, ONE ON THE SKWA AND THE OTHER ON THE PILICA RIVER.

GERMAN FORCING RUSSIANS BACKWARD.
BERLIN, March 29.—The Germans are forcing the Russians out of East Prussia and have now invaded Russian territory. The Germans have stormed Taurrohen, taking 300 prisoners, and have captured thousands of Russians in the district of Kraanopol. IT WAS REPORTED EARLIER IN THE DAY THAT OTHER TROOPS WERE TO BE SENT TO BROWNSVILLE.

BROWNSVILLE, TEXAS, MARCH 29.—VILLA'S FORCES ARE EXPECTED TO SHORTLY BEGIN SHELLING MATAMORAS. THIS WILL GREATLY INCREASE THE DANGER ON THE AMERICAN SIDE OF THE RIVER. DESULTORY FIRING HAS BEEN IN PROGRESS TODAY.

HOT FIRE OF THE ALLIES SILENCED TURK'S GUNS

LONDON, MARCH 29.—A GENERAL BOMBARDMENT OF TURKISH FORTS WAS BEGUN AT 9:00 O'CLOCK SUNDAY MORNING BY THE REINFORCED ANGLO-FRENCH FLEET. BALL GAME IN THE FORENOON TOMORROW
At the request of the New York Americans the time of the ball game at Ebbets field tomorrow has been changed from 3:00 p. m. to 10:30 a. m., which permits the visiting team to leave in the afternoon and saves them a day's time.

ELKS WILL HAVE INTERESTING TIME AT MEETING TUES.

MEETING OF LOCAL LODGE TO-MORROW EVENING TO BE SOMETHING OUT OF THE ORDINARY.

The meeting of Daytona Lodge of Elks tomorrow evening, which will be the last meeting before the installation of the new officers, promises to be of more than usual interest to the members of the order.

The new paraphernalia, which was recently ordered, has arrived and will be put into use tomorrow evening as there will be a candidate for initiation.

An exceptionally fine lunch has been provided and there will be plenty of the usual refreshments so that a good time is assured all who attend.

A feature of the meeting tomorrow evening will be the presence of the Saracina band through the courtesy of Commodore C. G. Burgoyne, who is himself a member of the local lodge.

The installation of the new officers will take place Tuesday night, April 6th.

VISIT WAS ALMOST AS GOOD AS A TRIP HOME
"SI" Pieh, the popular young twirler for the New York Americans, and Dr. Morrissey were Sunday dinner guests at the River Front home of Senator and Mrs. Ed. Pierce. SI is a prairie product, born and raised on the farm near the Dakota home of the Pierce's, and went to big league ball in about three jumps. He says the visit was almost as good as making a trip home. Incidentally, the doctor got even for some of the things he did to his pets among the Brooklyn batters last summer.

SEND THEM TO YOUR FRIENDS IN THE NORTH
The Illustrated Edition of the Gazette-News issued last Friday is an appropriate souvenir to send to your northern friends. A copy may interest them in Daytona and cause them to become winter visitors if not all-year residents. A dollar bill will send 20 copies to 20 persons. Just send the money and a list of names and addresses — the Gazette-News company will attend to the mailing.

LIFE IN DEATH

By SARAH BAXTER

I went to bed with a frightful head ache. It really seemed that I could not endure the pain. I did not endure it. The agony broke down my nerve strength, leaving me in a condition between sleep and death. At least that is what it seemed to me. I lay in a semiconscious condition till morning, when my maid came into the room, and the moment she looked at me she gave a cry and ran out again. In a few moments every one in the house rushed into the room and on seeing me took on a solemn, some of them a pained, expression.

The first person not a member of the family who came in was my doctor. He looked at me scrutinizingly, felt my pulse, then bent his head down on my chest to listen for a heartbeat.

"I think she is dead," he said. Just before he spoke the words my dance, Eben Green, came in. I saw him looking at me with an expression which indicated disappointment rather than grief.

"You say, doctor," he broke in, "that you think she is dead? Is there no hope?"

The doctor laid his head again on my breast before replying.

"Yes, she is dead."

Eben turned away, not with a moan. It seemed to me rather with a suppressed oath, and left the room.

I confess that I was too much frightened at the prospect of being buried alive to take an interest in the absence of feeling on the part of my lover at losing me. Had I been free from this fear doubtless it would have affected me intensely. I divined the cause of his bearing toward what he supposed to be my dead body. I was rich; he was poor. He had been acting the lover for the purpose of securing my fortune.

Later in the day my doctor came into the room, where I was lying alone, with another man. Both were physicians, and it was plain to me that they were endeavoring to discover whether or not I was dead. After applying several tests, the nature of which I did not comprehend, they came to the conclusion that my burial had better be delayed, but that they would not give out the fact that they suspected I still lived.

During the afternoon I seemed to pass from my deathlike condition into a restful slumber. When I awoke I was myself again. There was a dim light in the room, and my maid was putting to rights a few things that had been scattered about.

"Christine!" I called. Christine started, turned, looked at me and was about to flee in terror when I said again quietly:

"Christine, please bring me a glass of water."

My tone and the ordinary nature of my request reassured her. I told her I had been conscious of all that had passed. She came to me shrilly looking at me for a few moments, then ran out of the room as she had done in the morning, this time to inform the household not that I was dead, but that I lived.

My doctor was sent for, and when he came he did not manifest any special surprise at finding me alive. He said he had not believed that I was dead, but would not make known his opinion, being unwilling to excite expectations that might not be realized. I was very weak, and he gave me some drug to tide me over my present condition. I did not feel strong enough to take any interest in anything and after having partaken of a little nourishment, fell into a slumber.

I soon began to gather strength, and with its return my mind took hold of my discovery of the object Eben Green had in desiring to marry me. Our wedding had been set for a week from the day I was stricken. The narrowness of my matrimonial escape appalled me. I had felt the fear some wealthy girls experience of being married for my money, but Eben had been honest actor that he had

BASEBALL AT FRONT

Americans in Foreign Legion

Volunteers From the United States

Paris.—The correspondent of New York Sun with the Foreign Legion at the front writes:

A postcard came from Torole saying that he is acting as mechanic for an American aviator with the fifteenth squadron of the royal flying corps at Farnborough, England. He adds that he has been granted ten days' vacation and received $10 advance pay and that the feeding is fine, especially the ham and eggs.

Fred Stone, a New Yorker, has been wounded by shrapnel while on sentinal duty in the trenches at the town of —. Two bullets entered his body, but Dr. Van Vorst, who attended him, assured us he was all right.

A later letter says:

This is my birthday. Heavy snow has fallen. Strange, for only yesterday as we were on our way to the shooting trenches from the sugar refinery on the canal, where we had all taken hot shower baths, I was thinking of writing to ask you to send us a baseball outfit. Spring was in the air, and everything was beautiful, so no wonder we all got baseball fever.

Many of the Americans here are college men. There are at least three in the rear and thirteen here. We had 14, but Carstairs is gone. Rockwell is in the hospital at Mont Meriel. Olinger is at the depot at Orleans, and so is Collins, who is still ill. Narwich has just joined us again with some others who have come to fill our ranks. Ganson is also at Orleans. Casey has gone for an eight-day rest.

You may think the idea of baseball here is crazy, but why not? The English play football in the rear of the lines. Do not forget that this war is the most remarkable war in many other ways than its size. It has been pointed out often enough that the firing line is 200 miles in length, but not much attention has been paid to its width. Its depth is so comparatively insignificant that we can play ball if we will when out of the trenches. Of course shells fall in this village where I am writing, where we rest, but we can go another half mile or so to the rear and be entirely out of the danger zone. People are living there again as before the war. They hear the distant roar of cannon, but the noise becomes a habit. Anyone who wants a fine reproduction of the front when firing is going on—not a battle but the ordinary firing—has only to go to some big construction work in New York, where he will hear exactly what we hear every day.

The blasting imitates the cannon, the hammer striking the steel girder gives the rifle shot, a steel girder when dropped reproduces a cannon fire effect, especially through the vibrations caused. But the most remarkable imitation is the hydraulic hammer, that contrivance with which a workman bores holes in steel. This instrument exactly imitates a machine gun in action. If I ever get back to New York I shall jump whenever I hear one.

In "Sunrise Slumber" Patient is

Columbus, O. — "Twilight sleep," hailed as a godsend to women, has a rival. It is known as "sunrise slumber," the latest in painless childbirth. It was originated here by Dr. C. T. Turner, obstetrical expert at Mount Carmel hospital, and Dr. W. I. Jones, anesthetist.

The new method is not in its infancy. This fact is emphasized by 15 Columbus mothers, who proclaim its virtues, these doctors say. The new treatment differs from twilight

TURSDAY BAD DAY FOR POOR CUTSHAW

FOR SUPERBAS' SECOND SEMAN THERE MIGHT HAVE A VERY DIFFERENT TALE
TELL.

Shades of night descended upon battled clans of Wild Bill Don-and Wilbert Robinson at the
of the ninth inning of Saturday's necessitating a cessation of ties. The score stood 6 to 6 af-the most strenuous sessions of all and the crowd in the grand-suffered from palpitation of the
at several periods during the con-

having trailed behind the
for six innings, the Super-discovered a burst of speed that them up on even terms with American League aggregation, ty-score at 5, all in the seventh y stick work. In the ninth the Yanks pulled ahead again by pushing a tally across the rubber, but the Su-perbas came right back in their half of the inning and tied it up once more by scoring once more.

Fisher, Caldwell and Keating worked for the Highlanders, taking three innings each on the mound. The first pair of hurlers got away in fine shape, only one run being scored off Fisher and none off Caldwell. Keating was the victim of the Superbas batting rally and yielded the necessary five runs which tied up the argument and necessitated the calling of the game at the end of the ninth.

Caldwell pulled out of a bad hole in the sixth, when three men on bases with two down looked dangerous, but the lanky lad fanned Getz for third out and the Superbas subsided for the time being.

Ray Fisher started things off for the Yanks right off the reel. Cutshaw caught a fast one at the end of his stick, sending it to the clubhouse for a circuit wallop, but this ended the scoring by the Superbas until the disastrous seventh.

Cutshaw, by the way, had a very poor day at the bat; oh, yes, very poor. George was very unfortunate;

he only hit for .800 during the battle,
getting a homer, a triple, a double and a single out of five trips to the plate. He accounted for four Brooklyn runs, scoring twice for himself and sending in two more tallies with a two-base smash in the seventh.

Charlie Schmutz opened fire for the Superbas and worked five innings, but was somewhat ineffective, allowing four tallies and giving up three hits at critical moments. He also passed four Highlanders. A com-ple of errors by the infield aided the visitors in their scoring during the first five rounds.

Brown finished the game for Rob-by's men, and although he was inclined to be wild at first, he steadied down considerably and was going well at the wind-up. Two runs were scored during his occupancy of the box and he gave up four safe swats, two of which were doubles and one a triple.

Zack Wheat gathered in what looked to be a sure hit in the seventh, off Cook, preventing a tally by Pipp, who had laced out a triple.

Hiddle Cree, in center field for the Yankees, contributed a stellar catch off Getz's hard fly in the eighth, while Egan, sent in to bat for Brown of the Superbas in the ninth, proved himself a pinch hitter of no mean ability,
by punching out a single which started a rally, netting the run that tied up the game. Jake Daubert brought Egan home with a stinging double and thereby earned the gratitude of Rob-by's adherents.

Wild Bill Donovan, who now shines
as manager of the Highlanders, appeared in the role of base umpire and exhibited some of the characteristics by which his fearsome nickname was acquired.

The run-up and score by innings
of the game follow:

DR. MEYER-GERHARD TELEGRAPHS REGRETS

PROMINENT GERMAN WAS TO HAVE LECTURED HERE ON EU-ROPEAN WAR — SUMMONED
FROM MIAMI TO CHICAGO.

C. F. Burgman, secretary of the German-American society, received a telegram late Saturday afternoon
from Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, Miami, stating that he would be unable to fill his engagement to lecture in this city Wednesday evening. The text of the telegram was as follows:

"I received this moment order to go right away to Chicago on very important matter. To my greatest regret am unable to come to Daytona.
Letter follows."

This will be a great disappointment to many people who were counting on hearing Dr. Meyer-Gerhard as well as to the German-American society under whose auspices he was to lecture here next Wednesday evening in the New Daytona theater.

Dr. Meyer-Gerhard, who is one of the most prominent German counselors and lecturers in the United States at this time, was to have been the guest of the German-American society while in Daytona, and extensive preparations had been made for his entertainment during the three days
he was to have been in the city.

Work.

Man must work. That is as certain as the sun. But he may work grudgingly, or he may work gratefully; he may work as a man, or he may work as a machine. He cannot always choose his work, but he can do it in a generous temper and with an up-looking heart. There is no work so rude that he may not exalt it; there is no work so impressive that he may not breathe a soul into it; there is no work so dull that he may not enliven it.—Henry Giles.

6560 Acres of Cut Over Pine Land $4.25 Per Acre

This property lies seven miles west of New Smyrna, on the Orange City branch of the Florida East Coast Railway, which cuts through one corner of it, and parallels it for three and a half miles.

The County road from New Smyrna to DeLand splits it through the center for four miles, same is being hard surfaced now.

About two thousand acres is prairie land, balance cut over pine, and no better trucking or fruit land can be found in Florida.

The drainage is perfect as it lies 22 1-2 feet above tide water, which hits it on the north.

The lands in the adjoining section have sold from $25.00 to $50.00 per acre, and prosperous farms are located on them.

The owner of the land has been holding for $8.50 but is forced to realize quickly, and will sacrifice at above figure.

I would prefer to show this land to someone who knows values when he sees them, and it will take only a few hours to demonstrate it.

One-half cash, balance your own time at six per cent.

GUARDED OFFICIAL AGAINST HIS WILL

QUEER POLITICAL GAMES ARE PLAYED IN NEW YORK—BE-WARE OF "GYPS" WITH SEC-OND-HAND CARS TO SELL.

NEW YORK, March 29.—When the murder of the gambler, Herman Rosenthal at the behest of a police lieutenant lifted the veil from the New York underworld it disclosed a seething and violent mass of feuds of a semi-political nature. This wild gang-world of New York was not a new thing then and the execution of Berker's four young gangsters did anything to blot it out.

As an instance I cite the curious case of Michael A. Rofrano, guarded from death against his will.
Mr. Rofrano is a city official, a member of the street cleaning department, drawing a salary of $5,000 a year.
He is an able lawyer and has offices at No. 198 Broadway, considered in the business and financial world of New York an excellent address.

One day a heavy-set, keen-looking man met him as he left his home at
No. 11 Oliver street.

"Good morning, Mr. Rofrano, I am assigned to you," said the stranger.
"Oh, I can take care of myself. You needn't bother."

"Those are my orders."

"Well, then, come along."

All through the day Detective
Franklin, an expert underworld sleuth, followed the $5,000 a year city official. He accompanied him to his doorstep at night. This went on day after day. Sometimes Franklin's side-partner relieved him, but Mr. Rofrano could not go out without being guarded. Finally he grew so annoyed that he complained to Captain Deevy, Franklin's superior. Deevy was courteous, but firm, Rofrano must be guarded.

"But I'm not afraid of anybody," protested Rofrano. He went higher—to the second deputy police commissioner, who is in charge of detectives.

Same result. Same result, too, when he finally arrived at the police commissioner himself. The latter simply paid a call to District Attorney
Perkins—and the guard continued.

A trifle odd, isn't it? Police sure a man is in peril of his life and man himself willing to brave beril.

What's the solution? Oh, it's just the little game of politics, as it's played in good old Manhattan. Mr.
Rofrano has dared to dispute the democratic leadership of the second assembly district with Big Tom Foley, ex-sheriff. Result: Three murders in a year, a thousand and one debates on the subject with fists, bricks and other persuasives, and so lively a time that if it occurred in any American city of 25,000 population the whole nation would watch it. But it's buried in New York's great lower East Side. Indeed, it's a big section of the half million people on the East Side don't know anything about it.

When in New York look out for the gypts. Don't know what a gyp is?
Well, you don't have to fear them unless you attempt to purchase a second-hand automobile. Then watch your step.

The gypts are the direct descendants of the old-time horse traders.
Their tricks are as many as those of the traveling gypsies who would doctor
a wheezing, knock-kneed, decrepit nag to look like a young thoroughbred.

The motor car gyp can also accomplish temporary miracles. Under his deft fingers worn-down cylinders and pistons are suddenly brought together and compression seems nearly perfect. Gears that have shrieked and rattled begin to purr like a well-fed cat and the victim gets a "demonstration" that is highly satisfactory.

A gyp sees, for instance, a fairly good looking touring car of the vi-intage of 1911 in the hands of a dealer.
"How much?" he asks. "I'll sell for $650," but after a good bit of dickering the dealer makes it $500. "I think it'll just suit a friend of mine," says
Mr. Gyp.

Looking over the classified newspaper ads the next day we see: "Private party compelled to sell his car (1914), cost $4,000, for $1,000; all equipment; just like new. See Gyp, Hotel Pluto."

"Must be all right if he lives in that hotel," the bargain hunter argues. He finds the gyp in a low-priced hotel room. "Oh, yes," said the gyp. "I have to give up my car. I'm funny about such things—always wanting a new car. My chauffeur keeps them in perfect condition, but I have to get a new one every spring." And so on and so forth.

Gypts often hire private garages or stables in the districts inhabited by the wealthy. It is known that a gyp has gone as far as Plainfield, N. J., in hiring a private garage to give an air of genuineness to the claim of a private sale.

As to "doping" them, graphite mixed with cedar sawdust is used to tame the worn gears in a transmission or differential, while a very heavy lubricating oil or mixture containing wax will fill the spaces between piston and cylinder and bring compression almost up to normal.

Grapefruit.
Grapefruit is so called because it is grown in clusters not unlike a mammoth bunch of grapes.

O. EDSALL, WINTER RESIDENT, THIS CITY DIED SUNDAY P. M.

Oscar Edsall, aged 63 years, passed away at his winter home in Palmetto Park, this city, at 7:40 o'clock Sunday evening, after a brief illness. Acute nephritis was the direct cause of Mr. Edsall's death, but he had suffered an attack of paralysis about 10 days ago, since which time his condition had been precarious.

The deceased gentleman, with his wife, first came to Daytona a little over two years ago, from Sussex, N. J., and purchased a home for winter occupancy. The couple made a number of warm friends here who will sincerely regret Mr. Edsall's demise.

The funeral will take place in the chapel of Bingham & Maley's undertaking parlors, Wednesday morning at half-past eight o'clock. Rev. Holmes S. Rightmire, pastor of the First Baptist church, will conduct the service, at the conclusion of which an escort composed of members of the local lodge of Elks will bear the remains to the railway station for shipment to Sussex, where interment, with B. P. O. E. honors, will take place. Mrs. Edsall will accompany the body to New Jersey.

Besides the widow, there survives a son of Mr. Edsall, also a resident of Sussex.

TAG DAY PROVED VERY SUCCESSFUL

GRATIFYING AMOUNT RAISED FOR THE CARETAKING AND
BEAUTIFYING OF PINEWOOD
CEMETERY.

Tag Day, which was held last Saturday for the benefit of Pinewood cemetery, was a great success financially, $142.36 being taken in by the workers of both sides of the river and placed in the bank to be used for the caretaking and beautifying of the cemetery. Commodore Burgoyne most generously arranged a concert at Daytona Beach, in the forenoon, with the Saracina band which drew a large crowd, and in the afternoon, though it had been understood that there would be no concert at the Daytona kiosk, the musicians donated their services to play as usual, a kindly act for which the ladies of the association wish to thank them collectively and individually, as well as Commodore Burgoyne for his gift of their music in the forenoon.

Miss Irene Keating was in charge of the young ladies who conducted the tagging at Daytona Beach, and she and her squadron did the work in fine style and took in about half of the sum mentioned above. In Daytona the band of workers consisted of only five young girls out of a dozen or so who had promised their services, but these five, who were Elise Parkinson, Elizabeth Maley, Josephine Joscelyn, Susie Johnson and Gladys Bellisario, were equal to a whole army and worked like the busiest of bees all day long, their pretty manners and pleasant smiles making friends for Tag Day in all directions. The managers of the Daytona side were Mesdames Allen and Carter, and they hereby present the thanks of the cemetery association to these five girls, some of whom gave up going to a delightful birthday party in order to help in the Tag Day work, an unselfish act which will not be forgotten.

To the local papers and all others who added the association in its efforts to improve conditions special thanks are given by the committee.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson, of Mount Vernon, N. Y., regular Daytona visitors, who have been guests at the Gables hotel for two months or more, departed Saturday on their return north.

SOUTH AMERICANS PREFER GOODS THAT ARE "CERTIFIED"

WASHINGTON, March 29.—"Certified products"—products guaranteed by governments—are popular with South Americans. This fact has been learned through the campaigns conducted by United States commercial bodies in South America.

According to the United States bureau of standardism, "certified products" are popular not only in South American countries, but in other countries as well.

Official certification, as the term is employed by the bureau of standards, means nothing more than the government's guarantee of quality of a product.

While this certifying of products is somewhat new to American manufacturers the practice has been established for a number of years in foreign countries, particularly in Germany and Belgium.

Certification of products in the United States is in charge of the bureau of standards. Many times since the beginning of the European war the bureau has been called upon to give information in regard to materials which have been tested in the bureau's laboratories and which manufacturers export in large quantities to foreign countries.

An illustration of the need of certification of materials follows: A Michigan paper company shipped to a firm in Australia a large quantity of vegetable parchment. The parchment was held up by the Australian customs authorities because they were not sure of the quality of the product.

For a time it looked as if the shipment would have to be returned because Australian had no means of making the tests.

The Michigan company, however, appealed to the United States department of commerce, and samples of the shipment were obtained from Australia and sent to the bureau of standards, where they were examined and passed as "certified products."

The parchment then went through without further delay, and the paper company was very grateful for the trouble and expense saved to it by the government.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Ricker, of Somersworth, N. Y., who had been guests at the Despland hotel for a week, left Saturday for a visit at St. Augustine and Savannah before returning north. Mr. and Mrs. Ricker are friends and fellow townspeople of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Fall who are occupying the Troy hotel cottage on Volusia for the season. Mr. Ricker is cashier of the First National bank of Somersworth and is south for a few weeks' rest and recuperation.

Apes Can't Twiddle Their Thumbs.

The gorilla and chimpanzee, which belong to the higher order of apes, have many points of resemblance to man, but there is one thing they cannot do—that is, twiddle their thumbs. In the gorilla the thumb is short and does not reach much beyond the bottom of the first joint of the forefinger. It is very much restricted in its movements, and the animal can neither twiddle his thumbs nor turn them round so that the tips describe a circle. There are the same number of bones in the hand of the gorilla as in the hand of a man, but the thumbs of the monkey have no separate flexor or bending muscle. This is why a monkey always keeps the thumb on the same side as the fingers, and never bends it round any object that he may grasp.

Dig Deep for Mineral Wealth.

Michigan is said to have the deepest mines in the world, but ore is being mined at the depth of 5,000 feet in the Catlin shaft, the deepest gold mine of the Witwatersrand in South Africa. Considering the small and uniform increase in temperatures in this shaft and the fact that there are apparently no mechanical barriers, it is believed that mining can be carried on at a profit at a depth as great as 8,000 feet.

ENTERTAINED PARTY ON THE STEAMER SEMINOLE

Mrs. C. M. Dow, of Jamestown, N. Y., who is spending the season here, occupying her winter home on South Ridgewood avenue, entertained a party of 24 friends and acquaintances very delightfully Saturday with an excursion to the inlet on board the steamer Seminole and a trip over the bar into the open sea. The Seminole was in charge of Capt. Ralph H. Nutting, owner of the Nutting line of excursion boats, who took the boat out about four miles from shore and gave the party a pleasant experience of the open water. The party then returned and enjoyed luncheon and an oyster roast at Saeger Brothers' hotel at Ponce Park, getting back to Daytona at about 4:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

Capt. J. H. Howard, of the Howard Transportation company, was a Daytona visitor and guest at the City hotel from Sunday until Monday, coming here from Jacksonville to inspect the warehouse recently erected for the company on the south side of the concrete bridge.

The landing dock and warehouse are in readiness and Captain Howard says the steamer William Howard of the Howard line, will make her initial trip to Daytona the forepart of next week, carrying a party of government officials, officers of the Howard Transportation company and railroad men. Announcement of the schedule will be made later.

RUTH LAW, AVIATOR

MORAL: KEEP OUT OF MAYOR'S COURT OR—OH, HORRORS!

Mayor Titus came to court this morning with his other clothes—and he left his recipe for dealing leniently with evil-doers in the suit he pulled off. That, at any rate, is the general supposition. Nearly everybody was surprised, too, for as his honor strolled into the court room at nine o'clock wearing a nonchalant air, a cherubic smile, and habilitated after a fashion popularly supposed to prevail in angel-land, it was not believed possible that anything very serious could happen to the half dozen meek-looking colored brethren who sat trembling at the bar of justice.

However—Appearances are sometimes deceptive.

Also, "All is not gold that glitters." Paul Wells was not very well Saturday night. Paul was drunk and very disorderly. Although he was extremely sober, Monday morning, and strikingly orderly to boot, still all was not well with him; nor is it yet. Being drunk Saturday night Paul commenced hunting for the place where he could be disorderly to the greatest effect. In a negro festival over in the Waycross neighborhood Paul soon found the place idealized in his inebriated dreams, and in less than no time he had a good old-fashioned nigger row going like a juicy bit of scandal in a country village. Colored Officer Sims "batted" in and persuaded the instigator of the row to depart, accelerating the departure with a club, the same being applied ungenially to the northeast portion of Paul's brain container. Paul went away—but in a little while he came back, accompanied by a shotgun and disposition to start something worth talking about. But he didn't have time. If the first row started in "less than no time," there is no word in the lexicon that can be correctly used in describing the brevity of the period in which that festival hall was vacated when the shotgun appeared in the vicinity. And then the officer gathered Paul to his bosom. And then, when the story was told in court this morning, Paul received a lecture that "brought the blood" at every word. And then his honor said: "Sixty days' hard labor on the streets," Paul keeled over dead—almost!

The Jones boys—Mannie, Henry and Yank—were accused of interfering with the officer and trying to keep him from carrying Paul to the jail. Sims had on his neck a gash which Henry had "applied" with a knife, but Henry wasn't present. The evidence against Mannie and Yank was not conclusive, and they were released. The court commanded the police force to get busy and fetch forth Henry. If that white suit happens to be on the job when the trial takes place—poor Henry!

Ten days' hard labor on the streets. That's what Louis Cunningham drew when he pleaded guilty to having been drunk and disorderly. Inner weeping and subdued gnashing of teeth!

Alexander Parker tremblingly, tearfully admitted that he was drunk, disorderly and in a belligerent state of mind Saturday night. From the interior of that snow-white suit issued forth these doleful words: "Parker, you may perform ten days' hard labor on the streets of Daytona. No fine. Fines do not seem to have a restraining influence upon you worthless niggers. I'll just see what effect working on the streets, with everybody looking at you, will have upon your behavior. Understand?"

Court was about to adjourn—but it hadn't. The mayor spied a pair of young negroes standing near the south door. They had on their hats! Shades of Montesequeu, Blackstone and Greenleaf! Those boys had on their sky-pieces! "Come here to me!" commanded his honor. What're your names?" "Mah name is J. D. Boles," said one; "An' Ise named Rufus Stark," quavered the other. Then it happened.

"I'll teach you to respect this court, you impudent young scamps. You're guilty of contempt. Five days on the streets will be about right for you two chaps."

"Court's adjourned!" And then that pretty, white suit and its contents stalked majestically out.

REMAINS TAKEN NORTH FOR INTERMENT AT ARDSLEY, N. Y.

The remains of Mrs. Helene Rendsburg, (wife of William E. Rendsburg) whose death occurred last Friday at the winter home of Mr. and Mrs. Rendsburg, 501 North Ridgewood avenue, were forwarded Sunday morning to Ardsley, N. Y., for interment at that place. The body was accompanied north by the bereaved husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Knoesel and Miss Helene and Theodore Neppert. Mrs. Knoesel is a sister of the deceased and Miss and Master Neppert are her niece and nephew. Mr. Rendsburg expects to return to Daytona within ten days or two weeks.

Mrs. Rendsburg was a member of the Knights and Ladies of Honor and other societies north and of the ladies auxiliary of the German-American society of this city. The ladies of the latter gathered at the residence Sunday morning and escorted the remains to the railway station as a last honor.

A. S. Taylor and family, of Lowell, Mass., who have been occupying their winter home, 436 South Ridgewood avenue, as usual during the season, left Saturday on their return north for the summer, making the trip to Jacksonville in their car.

NEGRO JAIL-BREAKER IN PRISON ONCE MORE

MAGISTRATE ROWE SENDS
HENRY HAYES TO CRIMINAL
COURT FOR TRIAL FOR "TIGER-ING" AND BREAKING JAIL.

Henry Hayes, the negro prisoner who burned a hole in the floor of the city jail and escaped, one night last week, was captured at New Smyrna, Saturday evening, by Officer Tom Milton. Hayes was brought back here and locked in a cell at the jail. Last night, he and another prisoner, Albert Ivey, colored, came very near escaping again. They tore to pieces an iron cot and used the pieces in their efforts to get out, succeeding in breaking one of the locks on the cell door. They were not, however, able to get the door open, and their desperate attempt to gain their freedom failed. Hayes claims that his fellow-prisoner did all the damage to the cot and cell, and that he (Hayes) made no effort to get out.

Hayes is charged with "bootlegging" whiskey. His hearing occurred before Justice of the Peace M. G. Rowe Monday morning, and he was held for trial in the county criminal court under $250 bond.

A second charge against Hayes is that of breaking out of jail, which is a rather serious offense in Florida. He was also bound over in this case, his bond being assessed at $500. Hayes will be an inmate of DeLand jail until the criminal court gets through with him.

A card from Mrs. C. E. Starr requests change of address of her copy of the Gazette-News from Bardstown, Ky., to Burlington, Iowa.

Various Suez Canals.

The Suez canal is not the first canal to join the Red sea and the Mediterranean, according to a bulletin issued by the National Geographic society. The Egyptians, it is stated, in 1350-1300 B. C., constructed such a canal. In the course of time it was choked with sand. Another canal was begun by Necho about 600 B. C. and completed a century later. Trajan restored this canal. When Napoleon visited Egypt, he planned to reopen the old canal, but was forced to abandon the project. It remained for De Lesseps to repeat the engineering triumph of the ancient Egyptians on a vaster scale.

Bitter Plaint.

Being without money and friends, the accused was assigned an attorney by the court. Despite his lawyer's efforts a conviction resulted. Calling the convicted man before him, the judge asked: "Have you anything to say before I pass sentence?" "Yes, your honor. It looks to me like some people around here—naming no names—are in cahoots. I'm not forgetting who indicted that lawyer on me."

NEWS OF THE HOTELS

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brode, who make it a custom to spend a portion of each season at the Despland, left for Atlantic City, yesterday.

That the Morgan hotel is well filled was amply illustrated last evening by the large number of guests who attended the Sunday evening musicale. The orchestra of the Despland had been secured for the evening and rendered a splendid and diversified program.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Moreland and Miss Flora Ames, of Adrian, Mich., and Chas. F. Moreland, of Portland, Oregon, are again at the Despland. The party have been touring the interior of the state for some time, but will spend the remainder of the season here.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Dunn, of East Orange, N. J., left for St. Augustine, yesterday, after having spent several weeks at the Despland. Mr. and Mrs. Dunn have been in the habit of spending some time at the Despland for a number of years, and before leaving assured their many friends that they would return next year.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reed and party, motored up from Palm Beach and stopped at the Ridgewood, Sunday, leaving for Jacksonville this morning. They reported the roads between Palm Beach and Daytona in only fair condition. Mr. Reed is one of the largest real estate dealers of his home city, Springfield, Mass., and has recently put through a big deal at Palm Beach.

The usual Saturday evening dances at the various hotels were so largely attended that it seemed hardly possible that the season was drawing to a close. All of the local hotels have enjoyed "big" seasons, and the prospects for next year now loom up brightly as most of this year's tourists have signified their intention of returning to the "prettiest winter resort in the world," next winter.

LOCAL HOTEL MAN GETS

SHOCKING NEWS FROM HOME
J. J. Wegman, one of the proprietors of the Austin hotel in this city, is greatly affected by the shocking news just received of the tragic death of Chief of Police John J. Finnell and Detective Sergeant Chas. F. Gradwell, who were shot to death by burglars in the city of Elmira, N. Y., on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. Wegman is a special deputy sheriff of Chemung county, and had been associated with both officers in the detection of crime in Elmira on numerous occasions. The men met death in the performance of their duty, and while one of the two burglars who did the shooting is in custody with a broken leg received in trying to resist arrest, the other is still at large. Poses are searching two states for the apprehension of the man who is supposed to be the real murderer, and substantial rewards are offered for his body dead or alive.

SUPERBAS "ROMPED ON" GOOD AND HARD

IN YESTERDAY'S GAME HIGHLANDERS EARLY GOT "IN FRONT" AND STAYED THERE THROUGH NINE INNINGS.

Taking the lead early in the game and holding it safely through several innings of strenuous baseball, the New York Americans romped off with the second contest with the Brooklyn Superbas yesterday afternoon.

The game was replete with features in the fielding and batting departments, some spectacular stunts being pulled, particularly by the visiting aggregation.

Hughie High robbed Joe Schultz of a hit in the very first session when he gathered in the Teuton's smash after a tough run. During the game he gobbled up four skyscrapers, a couple of which looked to be almost certain safeties.

Cook, in right field for the Yankees, made a throw to the plate in the second that was a wonder. Zack Wheat, the first man up for the Superbas in that inning, had hit safely and advanced to third on an error and an out at first. Zimmerman then lifted a fly to Cook and Wheat started home after the catch, but Cook shot the ball to Nunamaker like a bullet, the throw being made from deep field and Zack was out by ten feet. It was a perfectly executed play and showed his league form.

Wheat committed highway robbery on Nunamaker in the fourth, when he took the Yankee catcher's drive after a hard run. It cut off a run, for Mullin would have scored from second had the smash gone for a hit.

Fritz Maisel got into the limelight in the fifth inning when he made a beautiful stop and throw of Joe Schultz's lightning drive along the turf. Maisel dove sidewise and scooped the ball cleanly, making the throw to first in ample time to get Joe by many feet. Thus was the light-haired third baseman of the Superbas robbed of what looked to be two safe swats during the game.

George Cutshaw had a busy day at second, accepting nine chances. He allowed Boone's roller to get through him in the 8th, scoring a runner, but this was the only miscue credited to him.

"Wheeler" Dell opened the battle in the box for the Superbas and worked five innings. He had two bad rounds, the second and third, when

"King" Cole proved himself a contortionist of sorts.

three runs went across the plate, but with the exception of those innings, the big lad got through very well. His control was not of the best, as he hit one batter and walked three, allowing four hits, one of them a double.

Althenson finished the game and saw two more tallies marked up on the board in the 8th inning. The southpaw hurler had very good control, issuing no passes and fanning two batsmen. The Yanks collected five bingles off him, Cree getting a double in the 8th to lead off with.

"King" Cole, the lean lad of the fantastic delivery, started off for the Highlanders and officiated for six rounds, giving way to "Dutch" Brown, who finished the argument. Each slahman allowed a run. Cole let the Superba batsmen down with four hits during the six frames he worked and passed one man.

Fritz Maisel grabbed off some scorches.

Brown found himself in a tight place in the very first inning he took the mound and one run was pushed across before he fairly got settled in his new job. Three hits in succession looked rather dubious for the Yankee twirler, but he extricated himself with the help of snappy fielding behind him after Getz had dented the pan. Again in the 8th Brown got into trouble, but pulled out before serious damage had been done. His control was rather bad at times, but he finished the game in good shape, allowing no hits after the seventh inning.

Jake Daubert, the veteran first sacker of the Superbas, was carried off the field in the fourth round, suffering from a strained ankle. Jake slid into third and catching his spikes in the bag, twisted his right ankle quite severely, although his injury will not prove serious. With care and a few days' rest, the guardian of the initial station may be expected to appear in his usual position.

The Yankees scored twice in the second. Pipp drew a pass and Dell hit Cook, both men advancing when Mullin went out at first. Miller threw to third a moment afterward to catch Pipp napping, but the ball hit the tall first baseman in the back, bounding into left field, while Pipp scored.

Cook scored on Boone's single to center, but the latter was caught off first by Dell's quick throw to Daubert.

In the third the Highlanders added another tally after two men were down. Cole and Maisel went out at first and then High put a single in left field. Cree drew a pass and Pipp singled to left, scoring High, when Wheat let the ball get through his legs. Cree was out at the plate in an attempt to score also.

The Superbas got a man around in the fourth after much labor. Daubert dropped a single in center and Cutshaw poled one into left. Wheat went out at first, advancing both runners, but Jake put his ankle out of commission sliding into third and Hummell took his place. When Myers flew out to center, Hummell scored after the catch.

Nothing more in the scoring line till the seventh, when the Superbas added another tally on three successive singles by Getz, Zimmerman and Miller.

Wild Bill Donovan's men got two more men around in the 8th. Birdie Cree doubled along the left field foul line and after Pipp fanned, Cook dropped a Texas leaguer back of short. Mullin went out at first and Cree scored, and when Cutshaw let Boone's roller get through, Cook came in with the second tally of the inning.

Both teams got a man as far as second in the 9th, but although McCarty appeared in the role of pinch hitter for Althenson, he failed to deliver and the game wound up.

The Yankees meet the Superbas again today and judging from the brand of baseball thus far displayed in the series, the fans are in for an other red-hot session this afternoon. The lineup and score by innings of yesterday's game follow:

Cheap Witticisms.

It were well if the so-called "clever story writer," who, too often, is the chief nuisance of the manuscript editor of all magazines, could be brought to a realization that mere exaggerations and disgusting incidents are not "fun;" would save postage and lessen the certainty of rejections.—"Cheap Wit vs. the Dairy Lunch," George Willoughby, in National Magazine.

FUNERAL SATURDAY OF A. W. MIDDLETON

The funeral of A. W. Middleton, who died Saturday morning at 7:30, at his home on Palmetto avenue, was held Sunday from the residence at 10 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Nuese, of the Kingston M. E. church officiating, assisted by Rev. H. S. Rightmire, of the First Baptist church of Daytona, in the presence of a large gathering of neighbors and friends. Interment at Pinewood cemetery.

Mr. Middleton died on his 65th birthday anniversary, after a lingering illness of many weeks.

Mr. Middleton, who was the son of a Methodist minister, was brought from Georgia to this state by his parents when a small boy and had spent the remainder of his life in North Florida. He had resided with him family in Seabreeze for twelve or thirteen years. Mr. Middleton was a good man and a diligent worker while his strength lasted, and highly respected by the several communities. He was a successful orange grower before the freeze, through which he lost nearly all he had and in a measure lost his grip, but kept at his post with patient perseverance.

Durable Snow.

It was in the smoker of the limited, and the Yankee was talking of Joe Knowles, Boston artist, who took to the woods without food or clothing and lived there for some weeks, by way of proving that nature is an adequate provider. The man from the Soo was skeptical. "Well," said he, "maybe he might do that in Maine, but out here, where we have weather, he could never have done it. Why, man, I've seen good sledding out here in August!" The Pine Tree man never blinked, but replied: "Nothing wonderful about that! Why, up Farmington, Maine, way, where Joe and I come from, they never think of using the snow until it's two years old!"

Had a Good Reason.

"Why do you never make any money?" "Because I am so particular about the company I seek," replied the man who is ever self-reliant. "A fool and his money are soon parted. I associate only with wise men."

Oil Your Rubbers.

Before wearing your rubbers rub them well with vaseline, lard or sweet oil, letting it remain on for a day or two. The greater part will be absorbed by the rubber and the grease will prevent the rubber from breaking. The superfluous oil can be removed with a soft cloth.

Three Things to Remember.

It is a maxim universally agreed upon in agriculture, that nothing must be done too late; and again, that everything must be done at its proper season; while there is a third precept which reminds us that opportunities lost can never be regained.—Pliny the Elder.

Origin of Shoe Heels.

Heels originally came from Persia, where they were used in the shape of small wooden blocks which the people fastened below their sandals in order to keep their feet as high above the level of the burning sands as possible. At first they were only one and a half inches high for men and women alike. Soon, however, the ladies favored fabulous heels reaching up to as much as 14 inches. A few years later on these heels were brought to Venice, where they became the fashion. They were called chopineys and were ornamented and decorated in every possible style and shape that cobbler could dream of. The height of the chopineys showed the rank of the wearer, and finally they attained such dimensions that many fashionable ladies were quite unable to walk.

G. R. PETTIT

[illegible]

Once well on his way, Laudat gained in confidence and succeeded in walking to Merestret without being questioned. He went round the outskirts of the town and on to Limburg where he found some old clothes in an abandoned house. This allowed him to discard his Belgian uniform, now all tattered and torn. Thus disguised he continued his journey as a tramp, without papers of any cost and with no money. He was obliged to pose as a deaf mute when he met people and beg food by signs. He slept in ditches, behind hedges and in old tumbled-down barns. The weather was extremely bad and his sufferings were great, but the courageous Belgian kept on, and with the aid of signposts along the roads he found his way through Bonn, Coblenz, Mayence, Mannheim, Karlsruhe, Strassburg and Ertstein, finally crossing the Swiss-German frontier and reaching Basel.

While in German territory he was often stopped and questioned by police and military patrols, but he always signalled that he could neither hear nor speak, and when paper and pen were offered to him he would write, "Ich bin Schweiz" (I am Swiss). This was his passport.

Not content with reaching Switzerland, Landst continued his tramp by Thon and Brign over the Simplon pass to Domodossola. He succeeded in reaching Gemon on January 27th, since his escape from Aix-Chapelle he had been walking for fifty-seven days and had covered a distance of probably 1,500 miles. The latter part of his journey was less difficult, for in both Switzerland and Italy he found people fully generous in giving him food and shelter. The Belgian consul in Gemon, Capt. Monnier, helped and for some days until he received his passport allowing him to enter France.

No Reduction

In the price of my lots. It is not necessary. They were bought right, and I am selling them right. For a few examples:

I bought a lot from Dr. Brush Shoemaker for $400.00; paid for it in cement walks, and sold it to R. D. L. Graves, the Seabreeze P. M., for $500.00 one year later. Ask him if he would take $1,000.00 for it now, three years later.

Four years ago I bought one from H. F. Stewart for $350.00. Mr.
Bogart bought it for $650.00 two years later. Lots against it sold for $900.00 this winter.

Mr. A. Hutchinson, of Gruber-Morris bought two of mine and sold them again with good results to his pocketbook.

Baseball takes up so much space now that I have not room to tell you about the dozens of others I took in exchange for blocks and cement walks, and sold them to men to our mutual benefit.

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Stevens recently received a copy of the Lompoc Journal, Lompoc, Cal., containing an account of a surprise party tendered Mrs. F. A. Mann by friends at Lompoc and quoting an address delivered by Judge Mann on that occasion. In order to entertain the large number attending, the party was held in the Foresters' hall. It was supposed to be strictly a ladies' affair, but two or three men were admitted, including the husband of the honoree and her grandson, Paul Merkel. The affair was a genuine surprise to Mrs. Mann and evidently proved a great success throughout. Mr. and Mrs. Mann and their grandson, Paul Merkel, are well known to many people in Daytona and vicinity.

TUBERCULOSIS ENDS LIFE OF PENNSYLVANIA PRINTER

W. T. W. Kittle, a printer who had been employed here this winter by the Morning Journal, died at about noon Sunday at a North Ridgewood avenue boarding house, where he and his wife had been stopping for some time.

Mr. Kittle had been in poor health ever since he came to Daytona, earlier in the season. He was a sufferer from tuberculosis, and for several weeks had been growing so much worse that his death was anticipated.
His age was about 35 years.

The remains were prepared for burial at Bingham & Maley's undertaking establishment, and from there they will be shipped Tuesday to West Newton, Pa., the Kittles' home, for interment. The bereaved wife will accompany the body on the homeward trip.

Mr. Kittle was a member of the Knights of Malta fraternity.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Wooster departed Saturday on their return to Brooklyn, N. Y. Mr. Wooster is sporting editor of the Brooklyn Times and came here with the Brooklyn baseball team. Mr. Wooster was here in the season six years ago and says he realized at that time the advantages this place offered as a winter training ground. He expects to come to Daytona again next season.

FINAL BAND CONCERT TUESDAY AFTERNOON

BAND WILL PLAY AT ELKS' HOME

TUESDAY NIGHT BUT CLOSE

THE SEASON HERE WITH CON-

CERT TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Saracina's band will play at the Elks' home Tuesday evening for the last concert of the season. The band given Tuesday afternoon.

Without the band the season would indeed, seem to be at an end, for many people will linger here until late in April and even into May. It is, through the generosity of the moderate C. G. Burgoyne who has finished the band this season, that here of this popular musical organization has been three weeks longer than ever before as it arrived earlier, earlier than usual and Commodore Burgoyne recently arranged to permit its stay two weeks after the conclusion of the contract time.

Notwithstanding the unusually warm weather which has prevailed here this season, and which has, to some extent curtailed the attendance at the concerts, thousands of visitors as well as residents have enjoyed the music provided through Commodore Burgoyne's ability.

Rocco Saracina is a musician of exceptional ability and gathers about him other musicians of merit in the formation of his excellent band that makes it an attraction of which the city may be proud. Its presence here during the season is a strong entertainment feature and the concerts are especially enjoyed by all lovers of good music.

Following is the program for the last concert at 2:30 Tuesday afternoon:

1. March--"Union Bugles"
2. Overture--"William Tell"
3. Baritone Solo--"Dear Heart"
4. Sextette from Lucia
5. Waltz--"Burgoyne"
6. Cornet Solo--"Last Rose of Summer"
7. Scotch Melodies
8. Neapolitan Song--"Funiculi Funicula"
9. Dance from "Madame Sherry"
